

Sarah Rossi

Executive Coordinator

Sarah Rossi serves as Executive Coordinator at Better Tomorrows. This role directly supports the Executive Director to effectively executive on organizational priorities and deliver mission-driven communication to all staff. Sarah also provides coordination to the corporate leadership team on various project management needs and initiatives. She also acts as Board Liaison to the Better Tomorrows Board of Trustees, managing quarterly Board Meetings.

Beginning her career with Better Tomorrows, Sarah's first role was as Executive Assistant to the CEO. Prior to Better Tomorrows, she worked for the New Jersey-based nonprofit Oaks Integrated Case as Executive Assistant to the CFO, supporting all state funded contract renewals and budgetary needs. Her nonprofit service career began at ACCESS in Boston, MA as an AmeriCorps Massachusetts Promise Fellow. Mrs. Rossi also taught elementary school for several years.

While no longer teaching in the classroom, Sarah remains committed to equitable educational access for all and is honored to serve on the Michaels Educational Foundation Scholarship Committee. She also volunteers with her local church, teaching religious education, and is an active member the Cornell Alumni Admissions Ambassador Network.

Mrs. Rossi holds a Master of Science in Elementary Education from University of Pennsylvania's Graduate School of Education and a Bachelor of Science from Cornell University's College of Architecture, Art and, Planning.
